

Coronavirus and People with Learning Disabilities: A study of the lives of people with learning disabilities through the coronavirus pandemic

CONSENT FORM

(This is an agreement to take part)

I have read the information page and I understand what this research is about.

I had the opportunity to ask questions about this research and the researcher answered these for me.

I know that if I do respond to the survey, I can stop at any time I want to.

When I have finished the survey, I know that I can email the researcher at any time at: s.caton@mmu.ac.uk and ask them to delete everything they have in their records about me.

However, I understand that the researchers might have already used my answers in a report.

I understand that by completing this survey, I will automatically be emailed with an invitation to complete it again two more times.

I understand that the results of the research may be read by other people and that my words might be used but my name will not be included.

I understand that the answers I give will be shared between Manchester Metropolitan University and Warwick University for research purposes but this will not include my name or contact details.

I understand that the survey answers will be kept safely for ten years at Manchester Metropolitan University and that my answers will also be saved in a place where other researchers can use them for research.

I know that my name and contact details will be kept safely at Manchester Metropolitan University until September 2023, so that researchers can contact me to ask if I would like to take part in any more research.

I want to respond to the survey.

By clicking NEXT below, I understand that I consent to take part in this research.
